

Glidette

Found primarily in the canopies of trees or in deep forest areas, the Glidette are a race of squirrel-like creatures with a unique membrane that trails from their wrists to their ankles. This skin-like membrane allows the Glidette (much like their Glider counterparts) to soar through the air, significantly slowing their fall and gliding to their destination safely.

It is unknown what the relation is between Gliders and Glidette. While Glidette appear identical to Gliders, they tend to be slightly larger in size and have developed a level of intelligence that allows for communication and civilization to build. Otherwise, it is unknown whether the Glidette is simply a more advanced species of Glider or if they even share any relation at all. The Glidette view themselves as superior to Gliders in a sense that they feel obligated to protect their lesser-developed counterparts. It is not uncommon to see colonies of Glidette provide shelter to the Gliders in the area.

Gliding through the air with remarkable grace, Glidette often find themselves watching over their homelands from above, soaring from treetop to treetop in their travels. While most Glidette live their lives in small colonies in the jungles and forests, many still have come to build a different lifestyle among populated cities. These Glidette are quickly recruited by the cities to deliver mail and packages, as their ability to travel through the air is helpful to this cause. Highpeak City's postal system consists entirely of Glidette, specifically the Airpost family.

Glidette often only have one name, though Glidette families will often be referred to by titles reflective of their position. The Airpost Family in Highpeak City, for example, was named such by the local populace for their mail delivery expertise. It is not uncommon to find a Glidette with no family name.

Racial Traits

Ability Scores. Your Wisdom Score increases by 2 and your Dexterity increases by 1.

Age. A Glidette reaches adulthood at the age of 15 and generally lives to be no more than a century old.

Alignment. Most Glidette are chaotic good. Generally, a Glidette will interfere in situations that strike them as unjust, and have no tolerance for oppression. They do not, however, believe in any modern form of laws or rules; rather, they act based on what they feel is right for nature or their family.

Size. Glidette heights range from 3'0" to 4'6" tall and weigh around 40 to 60 pounds. Your size is Small.

Speed. Your base walking speed is 30 feet. You have a climbing speed of 30 feet.

Lesser Darkvision. Accustomed to life in dark forest canopies, you can see in dim light within 30 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light. You cannot discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.

Languages. You can speak, read, and write Common and Sylvan.

Small Scamperer. You can move through the space of any creature that is a size larger than your own.

Aerial Acrobat. When you fall and are not incapacitated or wearing heavy armor, you can use your reaction to extend your membranes and glide.

While gliding, you gain the following benefits:

- Controlled Descent. You descend at a rate of 60 feet per round and take no fall damage when you land.
- Horizontal Drift. For every 1 foot you descend, you can move up to 2 feet horizontally, which doesn't count against your movement.
- Evasive Gliding. Ranged weapon attacks against you have disadvantage while you are in the air.

While gliding, you cannot make attacks or cast spells. You can stop gliding at any time during your descent, falling normally from that point onward.

Leaps and Bounds. When you make a long jump or a high jump, you can cover a distance equal to a running jump without needing to move 10 feet beforehand. You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Dexterity modifier (a minimum of once). You regain all expended uses when you finish a short or long rest.

Unique Body Shape. Due to your gliding membranes and unique anatomy, standard armor and clothing do not fit you. You can only wear armor or clothing specifically tailored for a Glidette, which costs twice as much as normal. Armor modified in this way functions as normal and weighs the standard amount. A Glidette wearing armor not specifically tailored for a Glidette loses their Small Scamperer, Aerial Acrobat, and Leaps and Bounds abilities.
