

Gnome

Among the smallest of the common races on Pliara, Gnomes stand an average of two-and-a-half to three feet tall. More often than not, Gnomes will train to use their small stature to their advantage, despite their cumbersome restrictions on movement. Whenever necessary, a Gnome will resort to cunning and wits to turn the tables on an otherwise dire situation.

While Gnomes are known for being one of the smallest, squattest common races of Pliara, they are also very well-known for their broad spectrum of coloration. Though some Gnomish colorations are more uncommon than others, no color known seems impossible to be seen on Gnomish skin and hair. Some Gnomes will invest in cosmetics to appear more "normal," while others may use the same cosmetics to further their wild appearance. Tundwine Gnomes, with pale blue skin and white hair, pose a stark contrast to the vibrancy of their counterparts.

Gnomes love to travel; their wild hearts and wanderlust make them natural explorers. Although it is extremely rare to see entire kingdoms, cities, or even towns of Gnomes, it is quite common to see families or single Gnomes residing among other races. Older Gnomes will often become entertainers, storytellers, merchants, or even Guild Advisors.

Racial Traits

Ability Scores. Your Intelligence Score increases by 2

Age. Gnomes mature at the same rate humans do, and most are expected to settle down into an adult life by around age 40. They can live 350 to almost 500 years.

Alignment. Gnomes are most often good. Those who tend toward law are sages, engineers, researchers, scholars, investigators, or inventors. Those who tend toward chaos are minstrels, tricksters, wanderers, or fanciful jewelers. Gnomes are good-hearted, and even the tricksters among them are more playful than vicious.

Size. Gnomes are between 3 and 4 feet tall and average about 40 pounds. Your size is Small.

Speed. Your base walking speed is 25 feet.

Darkvision. You have superior vision in dark and dim conditions. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light. You cannot discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.

Gnome Cunning. You have advantage on all Intelligence, Wisdom, and Charisma saving throws against magic.

Languages. You can speak, read, and write Common and Gnomish. The Gnomish language, which uses the Dwarvish script, is renowned for its technical treatises and its catalogs of knowledge about the natural world.

Gnome Sub-Races

Glyph Gnome

Glyph Gnomes are believed to be more connected to the mysterious realm of the Fey than the other Gnome subraces. These mystical tricksters are abundant throughout most of the moderate and warmer climates of Pliara, and they are known to enjoy long adventures, exploration, and trade. It is extremely common to see a Glyph Gnome as a merchant, peddling strange oddities and antiques.

Glyph Gnomes are often wildly colored with well-styled hair. Purple, green, or even blue-skinned Glyph Gnomes are just as common as those of other colors. Each Glyph Gnome has a small glyph on their skin resembling a birthmark, which cannot be removed under any circumstances. Removing the skin in which the glyph is found will cause it to appear on another part of the body the following day, so long as the Glyph Gnome remains alive.

Ability Scores. Your Wisdom score increases by 1.

Runed Skin. Every Glyph Gnome has at least one rune somewhere on their skin. For some, these runes may be small and easily hidden. For others, runes could trace the lengths of their arms and legs.

When creating a Glyph Gnome, you should carefully determine the size, position, and appearance of your runes, as these typically do not change. There are few limitations to the runes' appearance. Battle Runes could consist of a giant sword across the Gnome's back, two crossed axes on their shoulder, or even a fist on their forehead. Work with your Game Master if you believe your idea may be too outlandish (but Gnomes love outlandish!).

Choose one category of rune from the list below. At level 12, you gain a new rune from the below list that will appear on your body in a manner of your or your GM's discretion.

- Arcane Rune: You learn one cantrip of your choice from the Wizard spell list. Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for this spell.
- Battle Rune: You gain proficiency with any four weapons of your choice, as well as light armor.
- Beast Rune: You learn the Druidcraft cantrip. Starting at 1st level, you can also cast Speak With Animals once per long rest. Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for these spells.
- Earth Rune: As a bonus action, you can increase your Armor Class by +1 for 1 hour. You can use this ability once per long rest.
- Flame Rune: You learn the Produce Flame cantrip. Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for this spell. You also gain resistance to fire damage.
- Frost Rune: You learn the Ray of Frost cantrip. Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for this spell. You also gain resistance to cold damage.
- Love/Lust Rune: As an action, you can increase your Charisma score by 2 points for 1 hour. You may use this ability once per day.
- Nomadic Rune: Your base movement speed increases by 10 feet.
- Performance Rune: You gain proficiency with three instruments and one tool of your choice. You gain proficiency in Performance. If you already have proficiency, you gain Expertise instead.
- Puzzle Rune: You learn the Mending cantrip. Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for this spell. You also gain proficiency with two tools of your choice. Starting at 3rd level, you can cast Identify once per long rest without expending a spell slot or material components.
- Shadow Rune: You gain proficiency in the Stealth skill. In addition, you can attempt to hide even when you are only lightly obscured by foliage, heavy rain, falling snow, mist, or other natural phenomena.
- Storm Rune: You have resistance to lightning damage. In addition, when you deal lightning or thunder damage with a spell or attack, you can deal additional lightning damage equal to your proficiency bonus (once per turn).
- Vigor Rune: You gain advantage on saving throws against disease and poison, and you have resistance against poison damage.
- Ward Rune: You learn the Blade Ward cantrip. Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for this spell. When you cast Blade Ward, you can cast it as a bonus action instead of an action once per short rest.
- Water Rune: You gain a swim speed equal to your base movement speed. Additionally, you can hold your breath for up to 1 hour.

Gnome Sub-Races

Rock Gnome

Rock Gnomes are the most common Gnomish subrace in Pliara, easily outnumbering their kin across the continent. Hearty and intelligent, they rely on quick thinking and a surprisingly tough build to navigate the world around them. Unlike other Gnomes who sport vibrant hues, Rock Gnomes feature milder skin and hair tones. Their appearances range from pale browns and soft blues to gentle pinks. They possess an innate hardiness that lets them thrive in demanding environments, alongside a natural talent for invention that surpasses all other Gnomish bloodlines.

Artificer's Lore. Whenever you make an Intelligence (History) check related to magic items, alchemical objects, or technological devices, you add twice your proficiency bonus, instead of any proficiency bonus you normally apply.

Tinker. You gain proficiency with tinker's tools. Using those tools, you can spend 1 hour and 10 gold pieces worth of materials to construct a Tiny clockwork device with an Armor Class of 5 and 1 hit point. The device ceases to function after 24 hours, though you can spend 1 hour repairing it to extend its life by another 24 hours. You can also use your action to dismantle it and reclaim the original materials. You can have up to three such devices active at one time. When you create a device, choose one of the following options:

- Clockwork Toy: This toy represents a clockwork animal, monster, or person. When placed on the ground, it moves 5 feet across the floor on each of your turns in a random direction while making noises appropriate to the creature it depicts.
- Fire Starter: The device produces a miniature flame that you can use to light a candle, torch, or campfire. Using the device requires your action.
- Music Box: When opened, this music box plays a single song at a moderate volume. The box stops playing when it reaches the end of the song or when it is closed.

Tundwine Gnome

The harshest land on all of Pliara, the Tundwine, is home to very few flora or fauna. Life in the Tundwine is difficult as sub zero temperatures, devastating wind storms, and an overall horrid environment make it nearly inhospitable.

Nearly. Some, such as the Tundwine Gnomes, thrive in the frozen wastelands. With skin tones ranging from light grays to dark blues, these magical Gnomes break tradition by forming their own colonies and small civilizations throughout the Tundwine, associating with few other creatures. Despite being the only other civilized race, Frost Elves and Tundwine Gnomes generally do not get along with one another and pose great conflict.

While tales of other forms of Gnomes are told throughout the Tundwine, many feel these tales to be folklore and do not believe in the existence of other Gnomes. Those who do believe in (or discover) other Gnomes will often find their wild behavior and outrageous personalities far too overwhelming, as Tundwine Gnomes are often far more quiet.

Ability Scores. Your Constitution score increases by 1.

Temperature Regulation. Long, thick hair covering the Tundwine Gnome's body protects it from the sub-zero temperatures of the tundra; however, this hair will quickly shrink away when exposed to warmer climates. In a hot enough climate, the Tundwine Gnome may even appear completely hairless.

Hide Underground. Tundwine Gnomes dig shelters in softer ground or powder to escape the sudden storms and natural environment of Tundwine. Once per long rest, you can use a bonus action to gain a Burrow Speed of 10 ft.

Never Bothered Me. You have resistance to Cold damage.
